

Constitution Day is September 17!

Celebrate with your students

LWVBAE - Resources for Civics Teachers and Learners - Windows Internet Explorer

http://lwvbae.org/civ_resources.htm

Google

LWVBAE - Resources for Civics Teachers and Learners

LWV
THE LEAGUE
OF WOMEN VOTERS

Berkeley Albany Emeryville

1414 University Avenue, Suite D, Berkeley, CA 94702
(510) 843-8824 Fax (510) 843-8828 Email us

Home About LWV Calendar Your Reps Civics Newsletter Join LWVBAE Links

Civics Home | Learning Resources | Reading Room | Research | Standards | Testing

Civics Central
Learning Resources
(What Others Have to Share)

Italicized links open in a new window
(click on the Learning Pyramid for a PDF version in a new window)

Get Acrobat Reader

Learning Pyramid

Learning Pyramid

1. Learning (Change Learning Behavior Rates) 10%

2. Lecture 10%

3. Audio Visual 20%

4. Demonstration 20%

5. Discussion Group 30%

6. Practice By Doing 70%

7. Teaching Others 90%

(Adapted: Training Laboratories, Detroit, Michigan)

During the course of our two-year study, we came upon many organizations and institutions that provide information, ideas and materials that should prove useful to those teaching and learning civics. Below are links to many of them.

- Constitution Day Lessons

Follow the Twitter stream that Bill Chapman is creating to summarize the daily events of the 1787 Philadelphia Convention. You do not need to have a Twitter account to view the stream, just point your browser to <http://twitter.com/philly1787>

Posted for teachers looking for material to meet the recently mandated requirement for September 17, the Education World page you'll see after clicking on the Constitution Day Lessons link above provides links and ideas useful during the rest of the school year too.

http://lwvbae.org/civ_resources.htm